

Ethics activity

Matthew J. Salganik
Department of Sociology
Princeton University

Summer Institute in Computational Social Science
June 18, 2018

In this activity, you will get practice:

- ▶ identifying ethical issues in proposed or actual research

In this activity, you will get practice:

- ▶ identifying ethical issues in proposed or actual research
- ▶ discussing ethics with colleagues

In this activity, you will get practice:

- ▶ identifying ethical issues in proposed or actual research
- ▶ discussing ethics with colleagues
- ▶ proposing changes that might bring research into better ethical balance

- ▶ Split into groups of 4 - 6 people

- ▶ Split into groups of 4 - 6 people
- ▶ Discuss case study in groups

- ▶ Split into groups of 4 - 6 people
- ▶ Discuss case study in groups
- ▶ Discuss the same case study together

- ▶ Split into groups of 4 - 6 people
- ▶ Discuss case study in groups
- ▶ Discuss the same case study together
- ▶ Repeat

Questions?